DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-6 are canceled.
2. Claims 7-11 are examined on the merits.
3. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments, see Remarks, page 3, filed 10/09/2009, with respect to claim 7 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claim 7 has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Stringer et al. (US 6,960,322).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 3761

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Elgas et al. (EP 1086712 A2) in view of Stringer et al. (US 6,960,322).

Elgas discloses the heart-lung machine comprising an extracorporeal blood circuit established from the patient's venous system to the patient's arterial system (Col. 1, [0002], which means that both the venous line and the arterial line are present; an air bubble sensor (Col. 2, [0012], lines 3, 4); an air filter (Col. 2, [0011], line 5); a blood oxygenator (Col. 2, [0012], line 9); and a pump (Col. 1, [0002], line 4) to pump the blood from the venous system to the arterial system. “

Elgas does not expressly disclose the second pump to draw air from the air chamber.

Stringer teaches the integrated blood handling system comprising a pump 34 (Fig. 1) to generate a second vacuum to draw air from the air chamber of the air filter 21 (Fig. 1), which is connected to the venous line 11 (Fig. 1) and arranged downstream of the bubble sensor 37 (Col. 3, lines 1-15; Fig. 1).

FIG. 1

Since both Elgas and Stringer belong to the same problem solving area, i.e. recycling the autologous blood, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to supply the apparatus of Elgas with the second pump, as taught by Stringer in order to separate gas entrained in the blood from the blood (Col. 3, lines 1-2).

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 8-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

10. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The specific limitations of the "second pump outlet connected to a cardiomy reservoir" are not anticipated or made obvious by the prior art of record. For example, the closest Prior Art of record US 5,055,198 teaches a vacuum source suctioning the air from the filter chamber (Col. 9, lines 11-14).

However US 5,055,198 fail to teach or suggest the specific limitations that the pump outlet is connected to a cardiomy reservoir allowing forced evacuation of the air bubbles from the air filter.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
